❑ Dracula's Child by Jonathan Barnes

Evil never truly dies... and some legends live forever. It has been some years since Jonathan and Mina Harker survived their ordeal in Transylvania and, after vanquishing Count Dracula, returned to England to try and live ordinary lives. But shadows linger long in this world of blood feud and superstition.

❑ The Traitor's Pawn by Lisa Harris

An FBI agent joins the search for a missing senator - and encounters a woman he was once in love with. Full of complicated pasts and people desperate to hold on to the present, this novel delivers a masterful story of redemption and revenge.

❑ The Thursday Murder Club by Richard Osman

In a peaceful retirement village, four unlikely friends meet weekly in the Jigsaw Room to discuss unsolved crimes; together they call themselves The Thursday Murder Club. When a local developer is found dead, the Thursday Murder Club suddenly finds itself in the middle of their first live case.

❑ Dead Man in a Ditch by Luke Arnold

Ex-soldier-turned-private investigator Fetch Phillips takes on new cases, including the murder of a businessman, while avoiding those who believe he can restore magic to their world.

❑ Floriography: An Illustrated Guide to the Victorian Language of Flowers by Jessica Roux

A gorgeously illustrated botanical encyclopedia of the historical uses and secret meanings behind an impressive array of flowers and herbs. The book explores the coded significances associated with various blooms, from flowers for a lover to flowers for an enemy.

❑ Cursed Objects: Strange But True Stories of the World's Most Infamous Items by J.W. Ocker

Profiles the infamous real-life items that have intersected with some of the most notable events and people in history--leaving death and destruction in their wake. From the Raggedy Ann doll that spawned the horror franchise The Conjuring, to the mummy rumored to have sunk the Titanic and kickstarted World War I, Ocker has compiled a fascinating – and sometimes spine-chilling – book.
